Property Owners Excited Over Prospect Of $60.00 Tax Rate

With the annual town election but a month away, interest is centering on four contests for principal offices, with present office holders whose terms expire this year seeking re-election and being opposed by widely known citizens who are not new-comers to the civil life of the town. Mrs. Waivie M. Drew of the Board of Selectman is opposed by William S. Cavanaugh for the three year post. Assessor Steven Collucci whose term on the board expires this year has his contestant George E. Reynolds. Closson K. Blaisdell and John J. Nitchie are candidates for office on the school committee while Mary T. Welling and John J. Farrell present members of the board are seeking to retain their present spots. Constable Harry J. Ainsworth who has served for 15 years in his present capacity is opposed by Officer John Imbimbo.

With a grist of articles coming up in the town warrant featuring the annual meeting and entirely exclusive of the recent break down of departmental expenses, as released by the finance committee chairman Herbert Barrows, property owners are keenly concerned and the prospect of a tax rate upwards of $60 is disheartening information. In arriving at the possible $11.83 tax hike over last year's $49, the committee estimate was based on departmental requests with the additional total of the appropriations to be added. Very decisive cutting is expected, to avoid the looming tax levy.

Carl Backman Captures Silver Skates Derby Prize

Home town support was superb as 350 Wilmington skating fans occupied an entire section of the Boston Garden in the capacity crowd of 13,900 for the 14th annual Silver Skates Derby staged on last Sunday afternoon by the Record-American-Advertiser, as Wilmington entrants participated in the ice classic featuring 700 skaters.

The program fairly glittered with sparkling events with the very youngest entrant but 20 months old.. There were exciting exhibitions breath-taking spills, laughs, drama, spins, speed, figure skating rythmic skill with an overtone of flash and color. Again Carl Backman son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Backman was away at the top and emerged from the frosted extravaganza a derby champion, topping the Boys' Junior score. Carl, now 15 years old, was the Midget winner in 1945, and Juvenile champ, in 1947. This year with his brother, Leon, aged 12, the boys finished in first and second place in the Boys Junior Derby. Leon of the famed family of skaters which now numbers, four, won the Midget trophy three years ago. He is the present North American Midget title holder.

In other dazzling prize-winning features were Jean Ashworth, Janet Johns, and Gus Detato.

For unique fun-packed acts on the silver blades and captivating the crowd with his antics was comedian Ben Doba who, climbed a wobbly lamp post and drew laughs a plenty and rounds of applause. Portraying an inebriate on the [illegible] to keep reputation as a showman of international fame. Alex Hurd, an old favorite to the skating audience again lurtled through space, this time over 10 barrels.

With the long card of splendid skaters, and music by Kent Rhode's orchestra another great ice show has been added to the Silver Skates score! Again our Wilmington skaters have rolled up an enviable record of skating skill and finesse!

There were 4,500 American newspapers by 1870.

Party Manners
for pleasant party lines

It pays to be poised. Party line neighbors are quick to respond to those who are calm and collected when they ask for the line in an emergency. By sharing courteously, everyone benefits . . . and party line service is smooth.

It's good to be gracious. When a series of calls must be made, it's nice to remember the others on the line by allowing time between calls. This, too, helps give all party line neighbors their fair share of service.

It's polite to be prompt. Answering the telephone as quickly as possible shows consideration for the person who is calling. Telephoning at "off peak" hours — in the middle of the day, [illegible] — is also appreciated.

A NOTE to all party line users

As a general thing, party line service is good enough to meet the requirements of most party line users.

Right now, however, many people who would normally have individual service are on party lines — because this is the only way in which we could supply telephones to the thousands who have asked for new service in the past three years. We are breaking every effort to speed the day when we can provide individual service — or lines with fewer parties on them — to all present users.

In the meantime, won't you remember that party line service is largely what you make it. We'll do our best to handle your calls smoothly and efficiently. But, in the long run, the quality of party line service depends a great deal on how it's used.

Calling all outdoorsmen

By JIM MITCHELL

In most every community you will find a few hunters who will stoop so low in their greed to get game that it is almost unbelievable.

Major crimes frequently consist of over-limiting gunning, shooting out-of-season, bagging away at hen pheasants in states where they're protected. That's only a partial list, but none of these is bad in comparison to a story we heard recently.

It was about a party of rabbit hunters that were having trouble getting a limit of cottontails. So here's what the hunters did: They found a weed field that was just right to harbor a lot of rabbits, then they went upwind to the head of the field and set fire to it.

As the fire moved along in healthy breeze the hunters paraded along the sides and as the rabbits made mad dashes for safety the hunters knocked them off with their scatterguns.

That's stooping pretty low to get game. We don't know the hunters involved or we'd gladly report them to the proper authorities. No one likes to be a stool pigeon, but apparently every true and lawabiding sportsmen is going to have to start reporting violations to the game authorities. That's the only way such acts as the fire can be erased.

Someone suggested the other day that all persons who participate in outdoor sports should be divided into two classes: sportsmen and hunters. The difference, naturally, is that sportsmen get their enjoyment and fun from the sport of fishing or hunting and not the game or fish that go into the bag. The hunter puts "meat" first and sport second.

We will go along with this classification but, frankly, we don't think that a man who will set fire to a field should be classed even as a hunter. And the words I have to describe such men wouldn't fit too well in a family newspaper much as this one. You know what I mean!

This is a diesel ... a modern locomotive that means better service to you.

Leaders of two unions think it's a feather-bed ... a "make work" gyp that means less service to you.

● Leaders of unions representing railroad engineers and firemen seek to force railroads to add extra, needless men on diesel locomotives. This is sheer waste —a "make-work" program which would mean fewer improvements and higher costs—for YOU!

Railroads use modern diesel locomotives because they are one of the means of giving faster, better service to you.

Two men compose the crew of a diesel. They occupy a clean, comfortable cab at the front. The engineer handles the throttle. The fireman sits and watches the track ahead. With no coal to shovel, he has practically nothing else to do.

No Benefit To You

Now the leaders of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers and the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen want to use the diesel locomotive as a means of forcing a feather-bedding scheme on the railroads. The extra men they propose to add to the diesel crews are not needed. There is no work for them.

The union leaders are fighting among themselves about which union should furnish these extra, needless men. The Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers have even threatened a strike. You may not be interested in the dispute of those two unions, but you would be vitally concerned if these groups succeed in putting through this feather-bedding scheme, because it would mean a slowing up of the improvement program of the railroads—of which the diesel is the outstanding symbol. Diesel crews are among the highest paid railroad employes—real aristocrats of labor! Their pay is high by any standard. Granting these demands, therefore, would mean that the railroads would be paying out millions in unearned wages to those in the very highest pay brackets.

We'd Like To Spend This Money On You

You know how much the diesel has meant to you in increased speed, comfort and convenience. The railroads have many more of them in order for even greater improvement in service to you. But needless drains of money, such as this present demand of the unions for needless men on diesels, reduce the ability of the railroads to spend money on better service for you.

Proud as the railroads are of the diesel, it is only a small part of their improvement program. Since the War, literally billions of dollars have been spent on improvement of tracks and stations, on new passenger and freight cars, as well as on diesel locomotives, and on the many other less conspicuous details of railroading that contribute to improved service.

Feather-Bedding Means Less Service To You

But brazen feather-bedding schemes like the one now proposed would, if successful, divert large sums of money from our present improvement programs. Even worse, they make improvements like the diesel worthless, by making the cost of their operation prohibitive.

These demands are against YOUR interests —as well as those of the railroads. They are schemes to "make work". Neither you nor the railroads should be forced to pay such a penalty for progress.

That's why the railroads are resisting these "make work" demands to the last ditch—and why they are telling you about them.

Boy Scout Notes

The members of Wilmington Boy Scouts Troops One and Two had a special treat at their regular meeting, which was held, at the Scout Headquarters in the Roman Barn on Church Street last Friday evening. Assistant Scoutmaster Harold F. Smith, Jr. showed the boys three motion pictures. Smith, who is in charge of instruction, has stated that he intends to make full use of visual aids in his program of instruction during the remainder of the year.

The opening ceremonies were in charge of Senior Patrol Leader Alfred Swenson. Scouts Robert Boyd, Andrew Szuch, Robert Mc-Quaide, and Lawrence Cushing, Jr. served as color guards and bearers for the troop and American flags.

A patrol knot tying contest was held under the direction of Scoutmaster Daniel White and Assistant Scoutmaster Harold E. Smith, Jr. The contest was won by the Daniel Boone Patrol.

Junior Assistant Scoutmaster Robert Pierce announced that the troops would have a display in the window of the Church Street Hardware Store during Scout Week, February sixth through twelfth. The display will have as its theme:

Assistant Scoutmaster Talbot R. Hood was in charge of the closing ceremonies.

The program for the Seventeenth Annual Scout Family Dinner, which is to be held at the Grange Hall on Saturday evening, February twelfth, at six thirty, has been announced.

The dinner is sponsored by Cub Scout Packs 56 and 57, troops One and Two, and Senior Unit 56, and will be prepared by the Cub Scout Den Mothers.

Invited guests include the following: Congressman John Mc-Cormack, His Excellency The Governor of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, Paul A. Dever, the Board of Selectmen, Chief of Police, Chief of the Fire Department, and the Executive of the Greater Lowell Council, Boy Scouts of America.

The Invocation will be given by Rev. Stanley Cumming and following the meal there will be community singing led by Stephen G. Bean panel discussion will be held on the question "How Can Scouting Serve Our Community?" Members of the panel will be as follows: Herbert Higginbotham, Sr., Foster B. Baker, Charles Emerson, John Nitchie, and David White. Stephen G. Bean will serve as moderator. The discussion will be broadcast through facilities of radio station WLLH, in Lowell.

Mr. Sidney Dimond, a former Scoutmaster and at the present time a member of the faculty of Boston University, will give a brief talk.

Rev. Fr. George Brennan will offer the Benediction.

The Wilmington Scout Committee and Staff consist of the following: Committee: Herbert Higginbotham, Sr., Chairman, Rev. Stanley Cumming, Theo. Chisholm, Dr. F. C. MacDougall, Troop Doctor, Philip Buzzell, Treasurer, Meyer Weinberg, Guy Nichols, George Kambour, Steven Collins, Frank Hadley, Ralph Osborne, Foster B. Baker, Edward Neilson, Dr. Mclean, and Walter Finch. Troop Staff: Daniel White, Scoutmaster, Irving Rice, Harold Smith, Jr., Talbot Hood, Philip Denner, Robert Pierce, E. Alfred Swenson, and James Doucette.

Cub Scout Staff: Bernard Bacon, Cubmaster, Irving Rice, Mrs. Joe Barton, Mrs. Harris Anstey, Mrs. John Wilson, Mrs. Edward DeAngelis, and Mrs. Wayne Buswell.

FORMER MENTAL PATIENT SEES NEED FOR BETTER HOSPITAL CARE

Frank W. Kimball, left, B. U. Trustee, former mental hospital patient, congratulates Dr. G. C. Caner, President-elect of Massachusetts Society for Mental Hygiene for activity in behalf of mentally ill.

A Dedham man approaching the 80-year mark, himself recovered after 15 years in mental hospitals and one of the most active trustees of Boston University today applauded the campaign which the Massachusetts Society for Mental Hygiene is conducting for adequate appropriations for the State Mental Hospitals. He said "with proper treatment, a great many of the mentally ill could resume their places in the community as I have been enabled to do."

Frank W Kimball, despite his retreat from the pressures of life for so long a time, appears younger than his 77 years. He maintains [illegible] crowded with scholastic activities and nurtures a [illegible] around his home. In summer home on the [illegible] at the Boston City [illegible] be lunched with [illegible] Caner, President-[illegible] Society for [illegible]ene, well known [illegible]ist on the staff of [illegible] General Hospital and Harvard Medical School, he told reporters his story which he emphasized is not a "sensational case." Many persons still have the mistaken idea that mental illness is hopeless or a disgrace. But look at me. After 15 years of gloom, I have more courage to live a full life now than I had before my breakdown. Ask my wife. If the mentally ill could be given the best modern treatment from the day of admission, thousands of them could recover quickly."

An investment counsellor who gave generously of his efforts to the Dedham township for civic improvement, Mr Kimball had suffered a very severe mental breakdown, but good psychiatric care has completely restored his health.

Since his discharge from hospital care, Mr. Kimball has resumed his interest in community activities. He is Board Chairman of the Dedham Public Library where he spends considerable of his time. His trusteeship of Boston University he regards as worthy of his greatest efforts, and his interest in academic programs belies his years. He has crossed the country alone by rail visiting his children and grandchildren. Recently he made an airplane trip through the South inspecting universities and hospitals.

Mr. Kimball told Dr. Caer today that publication and distribution of 80,000 copies of the recent report of Dr. Clifton T. Perkins, State Commissioner of Mental Health, by the Massachusetts Society for Mental Hygiene is a "ten strike." Everybody is interested in mental illness, some of them because they are afraid of it," he said. "They need to know the facts, and the facts are in that report."

Stairway to Future

New York's newest glittering background for fashion and society photos is the Stainless Steel Stairway, fast becoming a famous rendezvous. Here are shown three pretty misses waiting for the bright lights to go on. Life, Vogue and other glamour magazines have started the trend and Mayfair's lens-conscious celebrities gave it the "Future" for first pictures on his recent American visit. The stainless steel background, chosen for its grace and beauty of appearance, is really part of a permanent industrial exhibit.

MAY BE AIDED

Wilmington residents who stutter, lisp or suffer from other speech disorders can usually overcome these defects by modern methods, it is being stressed daily at the Institute for Speech Correction, 419 Boylston Street, Boston, by noted speech therapist Samuel D. Robbins, director. The Institute is the only accredited school of its type in Massachusetts.

Stressing the importance of speech correction in children, Mr Robbins a world famous pioneer in this field, has found that the majority of adult speech defects could have been more easily overcome in youth.

Parents of the two or three-year-old child who has language difficulties should not be alarmed since it is often a temporary fault due to limited vocabulary or immaturity, but Mr Robbins recommends a prompt visit to a speech therapist if the defect is prolonged.

"From 25 to 30 percent of school children up to seven years of age have speech defects of some sort and in many cases should have individual guidance and instruction to overcome them," he advises. The Institute is a non-profit organization, works closely with parents often can aid in the speech correction process. Adults with speech defects as well as children have been successfully aided at the Institute.

The Commonwealth of Massachusetts (Seal) LAND COURT

To all whom it may concern, and to Ruth C. Dyson, of Billerica, in the County of Middlesex and said Commonwealth;

Whereas, a petition has been presented to said Court by Harry G and Lillian K. Flaiger, of said Billerica to establish their title under a low value deed, under the provisions of G. L. (Ter. Ed.) Chapter 60, Section 80-B, running to Catherine V. Ryan, by instrument dated May 3, 1930, and recorded in the North Middlesex Registry of Deeds in Book 789, Page 441, that the petitioners now hold their title under a deed from James and Edna Jones dated May 17, 1948, and duly recorded with said Registry of Deeds, in dook 1091, Page 433, and to require you to show cause why you should not bring action to try any claim or claims which you may have adverse to the petitioners' title arising out of the tax proceedings under which the petitioners' title is based'

Said petition covers a parcel of land in said Billerica, bounded and described as follows: Land in Pinehurst, Billerica, Mass., containing 7500 square feet of land, more or less, and being Lots #701, 702, 703 on a plan entitled 'Pinehurst Manor', recorded at the Middlesex North District Registry of Deeds at Lowell.'

If you desire to make any objection or defense to said petition you or your attorney must file a written appearance and an answer under oath, setting forth clearly and specifically your objections or defense to each part of said petition, in the office of the Recorder of said Court in Boston, (at the Court House) or in the office of the Assistant Recorder of said Court at the Registry of Deeds at Lowell on or before the twenty-first day of February next.

Unless an appearance is so filed by or for you, your default will be recorded, this said petition will be taken as confessed and you will be forever barred from contesting said petition or from having or enforcing any claim or claims adverse to the petitioners, their heirs or assigns in the above described land.

And in addition to the usual service of this notice as required by law, it is ordered that the foregoing citation be published forthwith on , each week, for three successive weeks, in the Billerica News a newspaper published in said Billerica.

Cancer Funds Inadequate

There was only $16,219,000 available from private and public sources for cancer research last year. This amounts to less than $30 per known case.

Dry litter, protected waterers, screened roosts and good ventilation of poultry buildings are important in keeping coccidiosis under control.

Ringworm is one of the most common skin diseases of young cattle and is apt to be most prevalent in the cold months, due to crowding in winter quarters.

MEN OF MERIT

The Very Reverend James T. Hussey, S. J., President of Loyola University of Chicago, in vigor and accomplishment is younger than his 44 years. Rev. Hussey was ordained in the Jesuit Order in 1937, came to Loyola in 1939 as instructor in religion and English and director of athletics, and in 1945 became head of the school. His early record resulted in the donation by Frank J. Lewis, Chicago philanthropist, of the 17-story Lewis Towers on Michigan Avenue (for a downtown campus), and also a large school trust fund. The able president then instituted a long-range fund drive, reorganized the Medical School and acquired the University Hospital, developed the School of Social Work and the School of Law, organized an expert business department, and integrated the various divisions of the University which are scattered over Chicago's north and west sides. A well balanced athletic program has been developed, and numerous other improvements have been made in this school of 8,000 students. Blessed with vision, ability and stamina, the reverend president considers past achievements as just a good start.

DEFINITIONS IN RHYME

CATACLYSM is a word of three-way meaning range:
A deluge, land upheaval or a shocking social change.

A TENET is a belief, doctrine or view,
Accepted by groups as established and true.

Sure, you know your house "like a book." But on dark winter nights or mornings you may discover otherwise. "Let there be light"—a small one in hallways or over stairways. It doesn't cost much—and it may save you a lot of money and trouble.

A former lumberjack friend is not much moved by certain advertising. Says that the boys of the old bunk-house would have been quite content if their "fingernail test" had revealed nothing more disturbing than inert dandruff.

Is the baby all wrapped up warm and cozy? Better check and see that it cannot get too much wrapped up and suffocated. Batten it down safely.

"I shot an arrow into the air,
It fell to earth, I knew not where"—
'Til the fellow it hit made it clearly known—
If he wins the suit, I'll lose all I own.

Bad weather keeps the children indoors. But a smart mother will discourage their playing in the kitchen—for that is where most home accidents occur.

"If you ever hear a brief, high, almost musical note on your telephone line—a sort of gentle 'beep'"—you may reasonably conclude that it is not friend wife talking.

How To Make Good Coffee—Every Time

THE average coffee-pot, believe it or not, is the most frequently used piece of equipment in the American kitchen. Unfortunately, judging from results, it is sometimes the most mis-used, too.

Uniformly good coffee — full-bodied, clear as dark amber, fragrant—is merely a matter of following directions. Once you have learned how to make coffee the proper way, you will never think of making it otherwise.

The basic rules for coffee making —that is, the rules that apply to every type of coffee-maker — are simple. Here they are:

1. Keep your coffee-maker sparkling clean, and scald it before using.
2. Start with fresh, cold water.
3. Allow two level tablespoonsful of fresh coffee to each three-quarters of a measuring cup of water. For demi-tasse service, use once-and-a-half as much coffee to the same amount of water.
4. Never boil coffee.
5. Be sure your coffee is the proper grind for your coffee-maker.
6. Serve coffee immediately after brewing—and serve it piping hot.

To make good coffee in a drip coffee-pot, first bring water to rolling boil. Measure coffee carefully into coffee basket. Then measure amount of boiling water to allow three-quarters of a measuring cup to each two tablespoons of coffee. When water has dripped through, stir hot coffee thoroughly to insure an even brew.

If you use a vacuum coffee-maker, follow the same proportions of water and coffee. Heat water to boiling point in lower bowl. Insert filter in upper bowl and measure coffee into it. Turn down heat under lower bowl and insert upper section. When most of the water has risen to top, stir water and coffee briskly. After two or three minutes, remove coffee-maker from heat.

Cloth filters should be kept in water in the refrigerator between uses—never wash them with soap.

For percolator, measure cold water into pot and heat to boiling point. Remove from heat, measure coffee into basket and return to heat. Let it percolate gently for six to eight minutes. That's all there is to it.

Don't forget that there are a number of interesting ways you can serve coffee. Try it with a twist of lemon peel, for example—it's colorful and delicious. If you like sugar in coffee, try a tablet of saccharin to cut calories. Then there is cafe au lait — hot milk and hot coffee poured into the cup together. Or, for an elusive flavor, stir your coffee with a stick of cinnamon. The old standbys, however, are cream and sugar, still the favorites of millions.
